

In 1929, Yuma was selected as the first stop for the Women's Transcontinental Air Race. Amelia Earhart experienced problems on landing and nosed her aircraft over, destroying her propeller. A new propeller and mechanics were flown in from Los Angeles to make the repairs so she could continue the race.

(Photo and info from Wikipedia.org website)